

60th Westphalian Elite-Auction

High quality lot of dressage and jumping horses in online auction

Münster: The lot of the 60th Westphalian Elite Auction holds about 50 highly talented dressage and show jumping horses as well as ponies. The bidding on the young horses takes place exclusively online. Bids can be placed from September 29 onwards. The bid up starts on October 4 at 2 pm.

The Westphalian Elite-Auction will also be held as an online auction this year. Nearly 50 highly talented dressage and jumping horses as well as ponies are for sale in the lot of this elite collection. This collection has a lot to offer, from high-quality youngsters to experienced show partners. 38 dressage horses, 7 show jumpers and two ponies are for sale on October 4.

Foxi Brown will kick off the auction with the head number 1. The just three-year-old Flashdance/Show Star son (breeder: Henrike Sommer, Senden) is equipped with three outstanding basic gaits. A dressage horse for the championships of this world. A licensed and competition proven stallion comes into the virtual arena with the head number 25. Hey Henkie by Hermes/Cabochoon (breeder: H.G. Hekkert, Netherlands) is equipped with enormous rideability and extraordinary collection ability. The show jumpers will start with the head number 42 Cedric by Captain Collin/Cairo Cajano (breeder: Stable Ridder, Selm). This four-year-old has already won several novice class show jumping tests for young horses this year.

The horses have already moved into their boxes at the Westphalian Horse Center. The auction candidates can be tried out at any time after arranging a personal appointment with our marketing team. The special presentation on Monday, September 28, will be broadcasted live on ClipMyHorse. Spectators are welcome after previous registration. Bids can be placed from September 29 onwards at onlineauction.westfalenpferde.de. On Sunday, October 4, the exciting bid up will start at 2 pm.
