

Young sires in focus

Online foal auction especially for offspring of young stallions

Münster: The auction carousel of the Westfälisches Pferdestammbuch e.V. continues to rotate "Everytime on Monday", it's gonna be for the next six weeks. Then the next westphalian online foal auctions will end. The upcoming auction puts the offspring of young stallions in the focus. 24 offspring from the first year of promising sires are for sale. Starting today at 9 am, bidding on the young Westphalians is possible.

Every year breeders, stallion owners and the breeding associations expect the first foals of a young stallion with anticipation. With an online auction especially for offspring of young stallions, the Westphalian Stud Book offers a unique chance to secure the exclusive offspring of the youngest licensing winners. "We want to offer our customers the opportunity to be the first when the offspring of the young talents conquer the licensing places in two years, shine in three years at the mare shows and in the riding horse arenas or win their first show jumping competitions when they are four years old", says auction and marketing manager Thomas Münch about the idea of this very special foal auction.

The collection of young talents promises great things! A total of 24 foals are for sale, 11 fillies and 13 colts. Half of the young Westphalians display a pedigree predispositioned for jumping and the other half for dressage. Four offspring from his first vintage are presented by the winner of the KWPN licensing Le Formidable at this online auction. The Bordeaux/Ferro son convinced as a winning stallion by his appearance and boundless movement mechanics. Within the lot of foals predispositioned for jumping, four offspring from Diamant De Casall's first vintage are on the list of auction candidates. This Diamant de Semilly/Caretino son already fascinated everybody at the main Westphalian licensing in 2018. He confirmed his performance in 2019 in his 14-day predisposition test with a final score of 8.55 for jumping and finished his 2020 sports test with an excellent final score of 9.17.

Take Twins for Wins

To kick off this Westphalian online auction for offspring of young stallions, the Westphalian Stud Book presents something extraordinary with the head number 1. With the characteristic name Take Twins for Wins, a sibling team is being sold in a double pack. Valdós and Viva are two offspring of the 2018 approved Vivaldós of very special quality! Aviador, Bentayga, Credo Grande, Emanuel, For the Future and Vaderland licensed in Münster-Handorf also send top-class offspring from their first vintage to the virtual Westphalian auction site. The latter could already convince with his offspring at the Westphalian Foal Auction for dressage foals at the beginning of May.

Not only the fathers of the 24 auction candidates have already drawn attention to themselves. The dam lines with which they were mated promise a successful future for these first offspring of the young stallions.

The collection can now be found at onlineauction.westfalenpferde.de From Wednesday, 17 June, 9 am, bids can be placed. The bid-up of the foals starts as usual Monday evening, 22 June, at 7.30 pm. Also afterwards it will not be boring at the Westfälisches Pferdestammbuch e.V. The next collections are already in the starting blocks. Every week until July 27 there will be an online foal auction of the Westphalian future prospects.
